

Cambridge/Africa Collaborative Research Programme

Seminar Series Michaelmas 2010

Myth and Modernity in African Literature

supported by the Leverhulme Trust and Isaac Newton Trust

Monday 8 November 2010 at 5pm

Professor Ato Quayson, University of Toronto
"Myth vs Existential Doubt: Individual and Collective Alienation in African Literature"

Monday 15 November 2010 at 5pm

Professor Steph Newell, University of Sussex
"Folktales and Trickster Tactics in Colonial Ghanaian Newspapers"

Monday 22 November 2010 at 5pm

Professor Harry Garuba, University of Cape Town
"Tradition, Modernity and Normalisation"

Monday 29 November 2010 at 5pm

Dr Mark Muthuray, Royal Holloway London
"An Aesthetic of (Post) Colonial Failure: Modernism and the Mythic Imagination in Soyinka's The Interpreters"

The seminars will take place in the Seminar Room, Centre of African Studies,
The Mond Building, Free School Lane, Cambridge CB2 3RF
01223 334396 centre@african.cam.ac.uk www.african.cam.ac.uk
Queries: Dr Christopher Warnes, cgw26@cam.ac.uk