

Africa Research Forum

The Africa Research Forum is a work-in-progress interdisciplinary discussion group for graduate students, postdoctoral researchers, visiting academics and Cambridge faculty members doing Africa-related research. We meet fortnightly on Wednesday afternoons during term-time.

Join us for afternoon tea at the Centre of African Studies from 3pm!

Michaelmas Term 2013
Wednesdays, 3.30pm-5pm
Room S2, Alison Richard Building

23 October 2013: Christian Laheij
(London School of Economics)

Bad hearts and dangerous neighbours: Sociality, kinship and personhood in peri-urban Northern Mozambique

6 November 2013: Egodi Uchendu
(University of Nigeria and CAS, Cambridge)

"See, we have dipped the Qur'an into the sea." Islam in Nigeria's eastern Niger delta region, 1890-2011

20 November 2013: Jason Robinson (University of Oxford)

All aboard Ramphela's train? Opposition politics and electoral reform in South Africa

4 December 2013: Andrea Grant (University of Oxford)

"Moments of Freedom?": Religion and popular culture in post-genocide Rwanda

Convenors: Jessica Johnson (jaj38@cam.ac.uk) and Ruth Watson (riw21@cam.ac.uk).

If you wish to receive notifications of upcoming presentations, as well as copies of pre-circulated papers, please join the Africa Research Forum on CamTools.