A note on assessed essays:

Please refer to the student handbook for detailed instructions on style and referencing of both the core course essay and the options essay.

When you are choosing your essay titles, please do bear in mind that you will be given credit for showing breadth of knowledge and a willingness to engage with more than one disciplinary approach to African Studies. Some overlap between core and options essays may be unavoidable, but it would be unwise to repeat significant amounts of material.

The deadline for the Core Course and Options essays is Friday 16 March at 12pm.

Please hand in your essay at the MPhil office at the Centre of African Studies.
